Switches and Sensors

Switches and sensors allow us to control and use artefacts, to create change or to accomplish tasks. In this workshop we will deconstruct and combine devices, so that our control becomes compromised by the devices own needs and identity.

We will make hybrid objects from an electronic ecology of debris. Please bring:

A 9 volt battery (the small rectangular kind)

Electronic Junk from a charity shop (walkman, alarm clock, joystick, telephone) recycling // misuse // hybrids // object properties // electronic farming // feedback systems
